Warehouse Associate

Rishawn has a special connection to BookSmiles. In his sophomore year at Lindenwold High School, his English teacher just happened to be Larry Abrams, Founder of BookSmiles. When BookSmiles needed additional warehouse associates, Larry reached out to Rishawn and as fate would have it, Rishawn was looking for a second job and BookSmiles was a perfect fit.

Rishawn is an easy-going, fun and caring person. He likes to keep a positive vibe and encourages others to stay and be positive as well. He enjoys playing basketball, bowling and hanging out with his family. He enjoys studying and reading the bible; learning and spreading spiritual truth is important to him. Rishawn is married with three children.

“Being an employee at BookSmiles gives me so much joy. I read to my children multiple times a week and if I can help parents and teachers get books into their children's hands to read to them or have them read themselves that gives me a sense of purpose. I love meeting the people who come into the Book Bank for books and truly believe in the BookSmiles mission.”
